A CLOGGED SYSTEM NEEDS ATTENTION

Are you bilious, dizzy and listless? Dr. King's New Life Pills taken at once seize upon constipation and starts the bowels moving naturally and easily. Moreover, it acts without gripping. Neglect of a clogged system often leads to most serious complications. Poisonous matters and a body poorly functioning need immediate attention. SOME OBSERVATIONS

Concerning Nothing Very Serious But Worthy of Thought

The importance of Ohio in the automobile world is shown by the assignment to Cleveland of the second big show of the new year. The Cleveland show will be held January 8 to 15, the week immediately following the opening display in New York, with a week intervening before Chicago's show.

THE SCHOOL OF EXPERIENCE.

In the great town of Lifeopolis a justly famous school exists; it is attended by the wise man and the fool. The master is severe and stern, May learn of him. Who wouldn't if Taught by Experience?

One never is too old to learn At this academy; And almost everything is taught— At least, it seems to be. No books are necessary here; One learns by failure; hence, Well educated, those who've been Taught by Experience.

No holidays are granted here; The tasks are hard to do, But those who their diplomas win Obtain the larger view; Their hearts with Love and Charity Are filled as recompense, And on their sheepskins one may read: "School of Experience."

Dear old London, owing to the exigencies of war times, has abolished treating in the pubs. For the benefit of those who may have to obey a similar order in this country if certain reforms are inaugurated, we make the following suggestions: Patrons of a public house must observe the forty foot rule—that is, they must not approach within less than forty feet from one another. Persons recognizing friends at this safe distance may shout through a megaphone: "Hello, old codger, what'll I have?" Old Codger in return may answer "Thanks, I don't care if you do." Then the first may say, "I'm drinking hearty, old chap"; to which Old Chap may reply: "Here's looking at me." After which the first may observe: "Well, will I have another?" and the second will respond: "Thanks; make it the same." This ceremony will be known as an anti-treat.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH

Prescribes Rules Regulating Soda and Ice Cream Trade.

A new regulation by the State Board of Health will cause some changes in the manner of dispensing the favorite confection in many places:

In order that the sale of ice cream, sodas and soda fountain sundries may be conducted under sanitary conditions the operators of ice cream parlors and soda fountains are hereby instructed that all such goods shall be dispensed only in sterile containers.

Facilities for the sterilization of dippers, glasses, spoons, serving dishes and any other vessel or utensil coming in contact with ice cream, sodas or soda fountain sundries shall include:

(a) An adequate supply of hot and cold water of a quality suitable for drinking purposes.

(b) Suitable arrangements for supplying boiling water or live steam.

(c) An adequate supply of clean towels for drying glasses, dishes, etc.

(d) Suitable provision for taking care of sterile glasses, dishes, etc., so as to keep same clean until wanted for use.

All dishes and utensils, after each individual service, shall be washed by (a) rinsing in cold water, (b) then thorough washing in hot water with soap or suitable cleansing powder, (c) then exposing to live steam or boiling water for a period of three to five minutes, (d) then rinsing in clean cold water and draining or wiping dry with a clean towel.

In lieu of the above requirements or where it is found impossible or inexpedient to use live steam or boiling water, paper cups or paper tumblers with individual spoons will be allowed for individual use only.

The use of straws is forbidden except when such straws are protected from dust, dirt and handling by employees or others.

The foregoing rules and regulations shall take effect and be in force on and after January 1, 1916.

Adopted September 23, 1915.

KILL MANY INSECTS BY FALL PLOWING.

If you want to kill the army worms, cutworms, Hessian flies, grasshoppers, and other injurious insects, plow your fields this fall. Fall plowing, disking and harrowing will break up the nests, cells and protecting cases of the insects and expose them to the rigors of the winter weather. This will completely destroy many of the most injurious insects and greatly diminish the numbers of others. Old wheat fields, weeds and grass which are now harbouring Hessian flies, grasshopper eggs and larvae can be plowed easily at this time, the operation crushing and destroying the insects in their winter stages. Others are brought up nearer to the surface and not being able to go deeper in the soil are often destroyed by birds and animals. They are also subjected to excessive cold and moisture, to alternate freezing and thawing and are killed. If the old stubble fields are not plowed until next spring serious injury may occur to corn, wheat and other crops in the neighborhood. The Hessian flies coming from the volunteer wheat may completely destroy the late sown wheat next spring.

How to Prevent Croup.

It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and when he began having that croupy cough I would give him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable." Sold by all dealers.

U. S. MARINE CORPS

Ready to a Man for Anything That May Arise.

An anti-enlistment league, pledging all male members over 18 years of age to refrain from enlisting for any international war in which the United States may become involved, is forming at 61 Quiney street, Brooklyn, N. Y., not far from the Navy Yard, where hundreds of United States Marines are held in readiness to leave at a moment's notice for any part of the world where American interests are threatened.

And the Marines are all "het up" over the matter, too. "Tell-it" to them has its drawbacks, for, as "Johnnies-on-the-spot," they form the first line of the national mobile defense, and they cannot get the viewpoint of the peace-at-any-price propagandists who have established headquarters close by.

"The United States Marine Corps is up to maximum strength this minute and is ready to a man for anything that may arise," said a grizzled old gunnery sergeant when told the news. "Let 'em strike, the home enemy or the foreign kind, and they'll always find the Marines able to give a good account of themselves. We sometimes need a few men to fill our ranks, but we've never yet had to call in the kind of male bipeds who wanted to know who the enemy was going to be before they enlisted. The United States Marine Corps is no place for a milksop, mollycoddle, or half-hearted man, for we're always in the thick of something or other, and we like to have a ticklish job to do. Look at Haiti. No, sir, these anti-enlistment people do not realize what they are doing. They do not realize that an adequate army and navy is the surest protection against war, and the stronger our armed forces are the less likelihood there is of a surprise attack by an unscrupulous enemy."

The United States Marine Corps (which is neither army or navy), has a scant ten thousand men with which to hold the foe at bay in the early stages of an invasion. These ten thousand are ready to a man and a button, but instead of ten we should be fifty thousand strong, to insure against war and as a means of protection against an unjust aggression. Perhaps if New York was bombarded by a foreign fleet the headquarters of the anti-enlistment league would remove from 61 Quiney street, Brooklyn, to—to the Navy Yard, maybe. Stranger things than that have happened."

THE GREAT METEOR

OF SEVENTY-SIX.

By Dr. Dwight Canfield.

November and December are the two months of the year within which aerolites are most frequently seen.

On November first, in the evening about nine o'clock, we were permitted to witness one of these shooting stars which was of unusual magnitude and beauty.

It fell from near the zenith, directly in the west, to a distance of about twenty degrees from the earth before it exploded.

We listened for the detonation but none was audible, it being too far away for the sound to reach us, we presume.

This brings to mind the great meteor which passed over the Mississippi Valley in December, 1876, and which we will later describe. Aerolites are inter-planetary cold

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Former Perrysburg Boy Remembers Friends of His Youth.

Dearborn, Mich., Nov. 5, 1915. Perrysburg Journal.

Dear Sir:—Yours received and will say I am well pleased with your paper, as I am a Perrysburg boy, or was at one time.

I was born in Perrysburg on the fourth day of June, 1845, and left the old home in 1861. My father, Robert Shaw, was one of the oldest settlers in the burg at one time.

I read in your paper of some of my old schoolmates—Fred Yeager, Christ Finkbeiner, or "Grizelly," as the boys used to call him. All boys in Perrysburg at that time had a nickname. I have the history of Wood county by Charles Evers, who in my time, was sheriff of the county. I see some errors and mistakes he made or was wrongly informed, and many things left out to make up the history.

I remember well the siege of cholera in 1854. I lost my mother, eldest sister (Jane Shannon), a brother next older than myself, a niece and nephew in five days.

Sol Mitson and Jerry Crane were the toters of the dead to the burying ground.

I had intended to be present at the Home-Coming two years ago, but the serious illness of my wife kept me at home. I am hoping still to visit my old home town and shake hands with all the boys that are left, and also with the editor of the Journal.

Very truly yours,
ALLEN M. SHAW.

Pile Up Your Money For a Rainy Day!

ONE of the queerest things about some people is that they will not follow GOOD ADVICE when they KNOW they OUGHT TO. Perhaps we are all more or less that way. All the wise men of all ages have urged their fellow beings to PUT AWAY SOMETHING for a RAINY DAY. Good old Benjamin Franklin's sayings on economy and saving alone ought to make a bank book holder of EVERY ONE. If you have DELAYED, suppose you act HONESTLY with YOURSELF RIGHT NOW.
